

Citizen Way Returns

Last year, WRGN had the privilege of working with Cross Creek Community Church in Trucksville to bring Big Daddy Weave, MIKESCHAIR and Citizen Way to the area. The response to the concert was great! Tickets sold out in just a few weeks. One of the most common things we heard was how much concert goers enjoyed the music and ministry of Citizens Way. When the opportunity to bring Citizen Way back arose, we jumped at the chance. They will once again be appearing at Cross Creek, and tickets started selling briskly as soon as we announced it on the air!

Listen for an upcoming interview during Wake Up Right with Tim & Doug and the guys from Citizen Way as we talk with them about their upcoming concert.

The concert will be at 7:00 p.m. at Cross Creek Community Church, Carverton Road in Trucksville. Tickets for the concert are only $10.00 and you can purchase them online through a link on our website, www.wrgn.com.

From us to you...

August 2014

To the WRGN listening family,

Where is God on Monday? That's the name of an article I read recently. Just the title was enough to not only pique my interest, but set me to thinking. Where is God, not just Monday, but every day?

Of course, God is with us on Monday, and every other day of the week, the real question is, do we live like it? Are we content to let Him have Sunday, and sometimes even Wednesday night, but not have him involved in the every day? Dutch theologian Abraham Kuyper said "There is not a square inch in the whole domain of our human existence over which Christ, who is sovereign over all, does not cry: Mine!"

One of the advantages we have working in the ministry of Christian radio is the opportunity to be daily reminded of God's presence. Of course, you can too, as you take WRGN with you in your car, on your computer at work, or thanks to the wonders of technology, almost anywhere on a smart phone. Part of what WRGN does is provide the resources for the everyday.

Each of us, no matter what we do, need to make a conscious decision to take God with us into every part of our day. After all, if you are a believer, the Holy Spirit is with you, whether you are conscious of it or not! So how do we live out our Sunday experience on Monday?

The answer is to start today! Do something practical at work to share the love of God today. Pray for someone in the grocery line today. React, respond, relieve, rescue, redeem...today!

Reminding you God is with you everyday,

Tim + Heather

Back To School?

You may not be ready to think about it yet, but heading back to school takes some planning, and Tim & Doug helped recently on Wake Up Right. They hosted two heads of local Christian schools to find out about their schools and how to pre-register.

Both men talked about the importance of paying attention to what our kids are learning in school and how a Bible based education can help.

SEE YOU AT THE POLE!

Live!

Wednesday, September 24, 7 a.m.

Tune in to WRGN on Wednesday, September 24, to hear from students as they gather for See You at the Pole. SYATP is a global movement of prayer which is student-initiated, student-organized, and student-led. It revolves around students praying together, usually before school and usually at the school's flag pole.

Join Tim Madeira and Doug Hamilton for See You at the Pole Live! as they talk to students from around our area. If your student is in charge of an event, please call the WRGN studios at 800-245-3688 to set up a time to call in. Stay tuned for more details!

Here at the Studios

Celebration was in order this month as we celebrated the one-year anniversaries of Jessica Harvey and Dan Close working here at WRGN! What a blessing they both have been to the ministry, and we look forward to many more years of working together!

Listeners are enjoying the new overnight program on WRGN, Kurt Goff Live that has replaced Music Thru the Night, due to Mike Kellogg's retirement. The program features music, devotional thoughts and caller interaction. We hope you will tune in and listen as your schedule allows.

While many of our listeners in Northeastern PA suffered damage and days of power outage from the quick moving storm that moved through our area on July 8, the WRGN studios never lost power and the tree that fell was a blessing because it was beginning to inhibit our microwave from sending its signal up to our tower. God took care of that concern for us!

We are so thankful to our faithful volunteers. One such person is Sharon Cease who delivered her sewing machine and ironing board to the WRGN studios! That seems like an unusual donation, but it was her time and talents that were much appreciated! Sharon hemmed the sound proofing material that was installed in the production room earlier this year. On another day in July, we opened the front door to find Debbie Misson who stopped by on her way home from work to weed our landscaping!

We were also able to have our driveway seal coated this summer with some of the additional funds that we had from our roof project. What a blessing to be able to take care of what God has provided to us.

If you tuned in to Connect Live on Friday July 25 and heard the song "It's the most wonderful time of the year," no, you did not just miss 5 months of your life. You heard Dan Close having a little fun for Christmas in July! Connect Live is a great time when we connect WRGN's listeners with WIVH's listeners via our simulcast. It is also a great time to win a great giveaway provided by one of the music or publishing companies. We offered an mp3-CD of messages by Alistair Begg who is heard on both stations Sunday evenings at 7:30 p.m.

Many of our listeners ask us how Jonathan and Johanna Broschous are doing. Jonathan was our Operations Manager who moved to Illinois last year when his mother-in-law was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer. While Johanna's mom went home to be with the Lord, the Broschous family decided to make Illinois their home for now. He, his wife, and two daughters are doing well and he and Tim still talk frequently. In fact, Jonathan was able to help with a computer problem plaguing WRGN's website that would not allow a search of the Good News Library's collection. Jonathan with his excellent computer knowledge was able to fix the problem for us!

Be sure to listen for details on the See You At The Pole pre-rally events for school students in Lackawanna and Luzerne Counties.

We hope you will enjoy and make the most of the rest of the summer!

“2nd Chance”

RiSE Makes “Live” Radio Debut

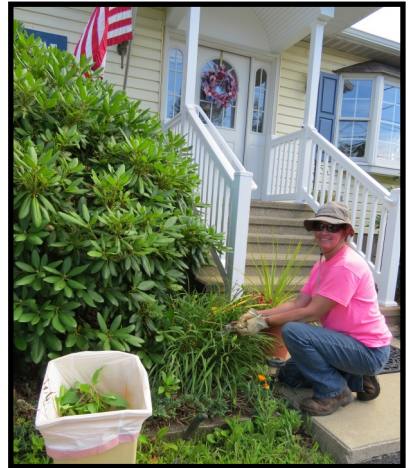

It was great to have the group RiSE from Baptist Bible College with us in the studios. The team was leading worship for the week at Camp Orchard Hill, Dallas, and made time to stop and visit.

The students travel on behalf of BBC, making stops at locations across many states. The tours for each new team begin in May and continue throughout the summer and into the school year.

The name RiSE comes from the team’s purpose: To see Jesus’ name (which must increase) lifted higher to rise above all other names (which must decrease).

RiSE uses music and art to help people realize the presence of God and to respond accordingly. They were also a part of our live broadcast of Circle The Square with Prayer in May, and we look forward to working with them again in the future!

Growing...like a weed?

While the flowers out front at the WRGN’s studios are growing nicely, so are the weeds! One of our wonderful listeners noticed, and stopped by one day to do some weeding!

Debbie Misson is an experienced landscaper and knew just what to do to set things right! We appreciate Debbie using her skills to bless WRGN!

New at the Library

The Good News Library is delighted to offer new summer books for just about everyone's taste. Whether you're reading together as a family or enjoying a lazy afternoon by the pool with your favorite book, the Good News Library has just what you are looking for.

How about an exciting political thriller by Robin Parrish titled Persecuted? Featuring the most popular evangelist at the time, John Luther, who just wants to share the Gospel and enjoy his family. He never asked to be the center of a political controversy, but that is exactly where he is. This book will have you sitting on the edge of your seat.

Middle school readers will enjoy A Less Than Perfect Peace, by Jacqueline Levering Sullivan, the sequel to Annie's War. When Annie's daddy was missing in the war, she wanted nothing more than for him to come home and wrap her in his big bear hug. Sadly her once outgoing father now blind from the war, is retreating from the outside world. Can she see the world differently to understand the deep consequences of war and the true nature of sacrifice? Incidentally, if you missed reading Annie's War, it is also in our library.

Are you seeking expert advice from one stepmom to another? 101 Tips for the Smart

Stepmom, by Laura Petherbridge is the book for you. This book contains practical ideas you can use today such as how to better understand your blended family or what to do when you feel like an outsider.

Perhaps you are working on making your marriage more of a team effort. In the book Team Us: Marriage Together by Ashleigh Slater, your marriage will be challenged in one of the most important aspects of an intimate marriage, becoming one. This book is written in a whimsical and engaging style to help couples enjoy building their team.

A new novel with both romance and suspense is Dee Henderson's new book Undetected. Submerge yourself in submarine warfare which is about to enter a new and dangerous chapter.
